

Millennium Capital Partners LLP Best Execution Report 2020

Millennium Capital Partners LLP (the “Firm”) is an investment firm authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority. The Firm is part of the wider Millennium Management group, a global, multi-strategy investment firm that provides discretionary investment management services.

The Firm is obliged to publish on its website certain information on its use of execution venues and executing brokers in the preceding year, as required by Commission Delegated Regulation 2017/576 (“RTS 28”) and Commission Delegated Regulation 2017/565 (the “MiFID Org Regulation”) of Directive 2014/65/EU (“MiFID II”). The Firm is also obliged to publish a summary of the analysis and conclusions it draws from its detailed monitoring of the quality of execution obtained on these execution venues and brokers in the previous year. This summary should include:

- a) An explanation of the relative importance the Firm gives to the execution factors of price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution or any other consideration including qualitative factors when assessing the quality of execution;
- b) A description of any close links, conflicts of interests, and common ownerships with respect to any execution venues used to execute orders;
- c) A description of any specific arrangements with any execution venues regarding payments made or received, discounts, rebates or non-monetary benefits received;
- d) An explanation of the factors that led to a change in the list of execution venues listed in the Firm’s execution policy, where applicable;
- e) An explanation of how order execution differs according to client categorisation, where the Firm treats categories of clients differently and where it may affect the order execution arrangements;
- f) An explanation of whether other criteria were given precedence over immediate price and cost when executing retail client orders and how these other criteria were instrumental in delivering the best possible result in terms of the total consideration to the client;
- g) An explanation of how the Firm used any data or tools relating to the quality of execution, including any data published under Delegated Regulation (EU) 2017/575; and
- h) Where applicable, an explanation of how the Firm has used output of a consolidated tape provider established under Article 65 of Directive 2014/65/EU.

The Firm does not act on behalf of retail clients nor does it use the output of consolidated tape providers. As a result, points (e), (f) and (h) above are not applicable to the Firm’s investment business during the period under review¹ and this information has not been included in this report.

RTS 28 and the MiFID Org Regulation require the Firm to set out its analysis per class of financial instruments. The applicable classes of financial instrument are set out in Annex I to RTS 28. As the Firm does not execute orders in certain of the financial instruments specified in Annex I, this report does not provide information on the execution of all the instruments listed therein. The instruments not covered in this report (as set out in Annex I to RTS 28) are as follows:

- Credit derivatives that are futures/options admitted to trading on a trading venue;
- Structured finance instruments;
- Contracts for difference; and

¹ The period under review is 1 January 2020 to 31 December 2020 (the “reporting period”).

Millennium Capital Partners LLP Best Execution Report 2020

- Emission allowances.

As required by MiFID II, the Firm has reported separately on client orders which the Firm has itself executed on venues (“direct execution”), and on client orders which the Firm has transmitted to other brokers for execution (“indirect execution”), and has marked the reports accordingly.

In this report, each execution venue or broker is ranked by trading volume for asset classes traded by the Firm.

In addition, this report sets out a summary of the Firm’s analysis and conclusions from its monitoring of the quality of execution obtained on execution venues and brokers where it executed or passed client orders. This analysis is set out on an instrument category basis.

Please note that this document is not marketing or promotional material and has been prepared and published to ensure compliance with MiFID II disclosure requirements. The Firm does not otherwise guarantee the correctness or completeness of the information in this report and shall not be responsible for or have any liability whatsoever for any loss or damage caused by errors, inaccuracies or omissions in connection with use or reliance on this information.

Execution Factors	The Firm may utilise its affiliates for order execution, such as in relation to specific regions or relating to specific strategies where an affiliate possesses familiarity in relation to the relevant instrument and relevant trading venues. During the reporting period, the Firm considered the following factors to be the most important execution factors when assessing the quality of execution in this category: price, transaction costs and any other factors that were deemed appropriate to consider under the relevant circumstances.
Close links, conflicts of interest and common ownership with respect to execution venues	The Firm may pass orders to its affiliates to execute on a trading venue. Where it does so, the Firm and the affiliates executing transactions in this category belong to the same management group and are commonly owned. The Firm does not have any monetary incentive to use its affiliates, and orders are passed to affiliates in order to obtain the best result with regard to the relevant orders and execution factors.
Specific arrangements with execution venues regarding payments made or received, discounts, rebates or non-monetary benefits received	The Firm does not have any specific arrangements under which the Firm receives or makes any payment, or receives any discounts or rebates from its affiliates for executing instruments in this category. To the extent the Firm receives research or market data from any executing broker it does so in compliance with MiFID II inducement rules.
Factors leading to a change in the list of execution venues listed	There was no change in the list of executing brokers that were approved by the Firm for the execution of orders for this class of financial instrument in the reporting period.
Use of data/tools relating to quality of execution	The management group to which the Firm (and the affiliates which are execution venues for this class of instrument) belongs regularly monitors and evaluates the quality of execution. Where quantitative analysis of execution quality is appropriate, ongoing monitoring is performed through controls undertaken by the Firm's Execution Services department (via, inter alia, transaction analysis).

Execution Factors	The Firm may utilise its affiliates for order execution, such as in relation to specific regions or relating to specific strategies where an affiliate possesses familiarity in relation to the relevant instrument and relevant trading venues. During the reporting period, the Firm considered the following factors to be the most important execution factors when assessing the quality of execution in this category: price, speed of execution, likelihood of execution and any other factors that were deemed appropriate to consider under the relevant circumstances.
Close links, conflicts of interest and common ownership with respect to execution venues	The Firm may pass orders to its affiliates to execute on a trading venue. Where it does so, the Firm and the affiliates executing transactions in this category belong to the same management group and are commonly owned. The Firm does not have any monetary incentive to use its affiliates, and orders are passed to affiliates in order to obtain the best result with regard to the relevant orders and execution factors. With the exception of the Firm's common ownership with its affiliates, the Firm does not have close links or common ownerships with the executing brokers it uses to execute orders.
Specific arrangements with execution venues regarding payments made or received, discounts, rebates or non-monetary benefits received	The Firm does not have any specific arrangements under which the Firm receives or makes any payment, or receives any discounts or rebates from an executing broker. To the extent the Firm receives research or market data from any executing broker it does so in compliance with MiFID II inducement rules.
Factors leading to a change in the list of execution venues listed	The Firm maintains relationships with a number of execution venues in order to facilitate compliance with its best execution obligations. The Firm regularly reviews the approved execution venues and may make changes based on its assessment of execution venues' specialization in particular instruments, markets or regions, their ability to source inventory or market flow, or for their ability to obtain favourable pricing or low overall transaction costs at a given order size. During the reporting period, the list of execution venues used by the Firm for the execution of orders was changed in order to expand access to liquidity.
Use of data/tools relating to quality of execution	The Firm conducts a regular broker vote to consider the execution and operational quality of executing brokers.

The main venues commonly selected by the Firm via DEA arrangements include Chicago Mercantile Exchange, Inc. and BM&F Bovespa SA. The Firm does not have close links or special arrangements with any such venues.
